Making Telecommunications Work for Your Business

When:       Monday 16 April 2007
            7.00pm for 7.30pm start
Where:     Level 8, Room 26
            239 Bourke St (RMIT Building 108),
            Melbourne

Come along to this Network Night to hear how you can use simple but effective ways to achieve a professional image through telecommunications!

Brent O’Shaughnessy - General Manager of Oracle Telecom will explore how to get big business service on a small business budget, measure advertising response rates and how to retain the flexibility to grow without wasting valuable advertising and printing expenditure.

This network night is an ideal opportunity to meet with your peers, network, listen to guest speakers and have a good time and see the new NEIS Office which has been relocated to Level 6, 239 Bourke Street, Melbourne.

Make sure you bring your business card to distribute at this event and to enter into the Business Card Door Prize drawn on the night!

Light refreshments will be served.

RSVP to Helen or Julia on (03) 9925 2933 or Email: Helen.dougiakis@rmit.edu.au or julia.makowski@rmit.edu.au
by Thursday 12 April 2007